Earlier this week I blogged about my new love...Polyvore.com. I think I could spend an entire day on this site. Honestly. Now that's saying something because I have a really short attention span for things like that. Today I started to try to find ways to use the site and decided to use it to create an inspiration board for our 57 Grand Bridesmaid Dress Give-away. It was so quick and easy!

I decided that I would turn my favorite dress (from the Riverside collection) into a work dress. Since I need to try to blend into the background on wedding days, I kept the shoes and dress basic and classy, but I tried to add some spice to my life with the accessories.
