BRIDESMAID DRESS AND WEDDING GOWN PAIRINGS

A red carpet-worthy satin bridal gown pairs well with a bridesmaid dress made of a lustrous fabric (extra points when it features a similarly draped neckline). Glamorous beading—on the bridal gown's shoulders, and the bridesmaid dress's waist—are another unifying element.

If your bridal gown features a strong detail, look for bridesmaid dresses that have the same element used in a different way. Here, we're talking about a modern bow treatment—one at gown's waist, and another version perched on the bridesmaid dress's shoulder.
