

SUBSCRIBE Subscribe and get a FREE Bag!

HOME | fashion | beauty | sex, love & life | weddings | health & fitness +

57 Grand Has Good News For Bridesmaids: Dresses You'll Want To Rewear!

57 Grand reports a telling statistic: 30% of the line's customers are buying the bridesmaid dresses just to wear out and about, not even for weddings. The NYC label showed its newest collection of cool cocktail and full-length offerings at recent bridal fashion week. Glimpse a few favorites, after the jump.

Love the pretty pin-tucks on this lavender style, and it definitely seems like something that could be repurposed for the office by topping it with a tailored blazer.

Anything in a hot coral color is very spring 2011.

And I fully approved of this slick gray dress—perfect for urban settings.

Which do you like best here? Would you choose one of these dresses for your bridesmaids? (The styles here all come in a range of different colors by the way).