From try, to buy, to tie – Bridesmaids

Posted by Amanda | Filed in Bridesmaids, Try-Buy-Tie | Leave a comment

Last night, my two bridesmaids and I made a final decision on their dress for the wedding. I was set on having the color of the dress in the ivory family, so I was thrilled to discover 57 Grand and their Almond color. I love it! And even better, the dresses are 100% re-wearable and offer many flattering styles. We chose the Waverly and we're adding the Walker sash for that extra wow factor. I can't wait to see my two best friends in their gorgeous dresses!

While there, I also got a sneak peak at some of the new styles soon to be available from 57 Grand, so if your wedding is next summer or in the winter, I'd definitely recommend waiting a bit and checking them out.
