Have a few next-to-new bridesmaid's dresses sitting in the closet? Put them to good use by donating them to Operation Prom! The designers at 57 Grand know that chic, re-wearable style is a must in bridesmaid fashion. But- they want to "spread the love" and are hosting a Dress Drop to benefit Operation Prom on March 9th through the 13th in New York City. They are collecting gently worn bridesmaid dresses to help girls in need of fabulous, free frocks for prom. Live elsewhere? No problem, you can ship your dress!

While you're at it, check out 57 Grand's fabulous re-wear ideas like this one:
