

Bridesmaids Dresses by 57Grand

November 12th, 2009 by Abby Larson | Filed Under | 2 comments

We have been DYING to share the latest addition to our Look Book Bridesmaid section with you...the fabulous 57 Grand. The reason that we love 57Grand so very much is that their dresses are modern while still being kind of timeless, they are fun and flirty while still being appropriate for a traditional wedding. Plus, they have an insanely simple online ordering process for your girls that actually allows you to log into a discussion board with your girls...which, of course, made it a perfect addition to our Look Book!

And although it may sound cliché, these dresses are MADE to wear again and again and again. Seriously, check out their inspiration and ideas right here. So when you promise your girls what so many maids are tired of hearing...you'll actually mean it. And if they decide that it's just a one time wear, the girls at 57Grand will facilitate the donation of their dress to Operation Prom.

We love 57Grand. In a big, big way. So make sure to check out their latest collection in our Look Book!

Thanks for the reminder! I heard about them last month and was excited to see their dresses. I am a big fan of hudson, waverly, and riverside...and may want riverside for myself just to wear!
