The moment I first fell in love with Marcus Bell was when I opened my inbox to find THESE pretty pictures. I actually gasped out loud which I rarely do these days as I spend most of my days looking at beautiful wedding imagery. It's not that I'm desensitized to gorgeousness. Quite the opposite actually (just ask my husband who hears the squeals of wedding glee from the next room over). It's just that a wedding photograph rarely leaves me speechless. Well, Marcus has done it yet again with this Balinese fete. It's well...beyond. Oh and there is SO much more in the galleries!
